

Woulff Bottle

Woulff'sche Flasche

Georg-August-Universität Göttingen

Woulff Bottle

A Woulff bottle serves as a safety device for vacuum pumps.

It is vacuum-tight and is interposed between the apparatus and the pump when evacuating glass apparatuses.

This prevents chemicals from being drawn into the vacuum pump.

The two outer openings are connected to the apparatus and the pump. The tubes should always be secured with tube clips.

The valve in the middle is used for ventilation.